Lots biting at Elks fish derby

Perfect weather greeted 94 ice fishing fans who took part in Sunday's Elks Ice Fishing Derby at Kehewin Lake. The contest was based at the government campsite on Highway 41, due to the impassable conditions of the road leading to the Elks campsite.

Jerry Bugera captured both first and second prizes in the Jackfish category, with catches weighing in at 6 lb. 1 oz. and 5 lb. 2 oz. Lynda Shmyr topped the Junior division, with a 4 lb. 6 oz. Jack, while Gerald Bugera's second place specimen weighed 3 lb. 14 oz.

Very few pickerel rose to the bait, with Dave Selezinka catching the first prize fish, weighing 1 lb. 8 oz., and Carl Zarowny catching the 15 oz. second prize winner.

Perch were plentiful, with a few reaching prizewinning dimensions. Paul Piquette took first place in the adult division with a fine 21½ oz. fish, while Barry Jacula placed second with a fish weighing 18½ oz.

Junior winners Meghan Gusnowski and Nicky Bugera were tied with fish weighing 17 oz. apiece, with the catches later measured to break the tie. Meghan received the first place trophy, when her fish had a total length and girth measurement 1.5 cm. larger than Nicky's fish.

A draw was made from the names of those in each division who failed to catch a fish, with Shaline Seniuk receiving the Junior Skunk trophy, and Joe Zarowny accepting the Adult Tail-ender award.

The King of kings, the Lord of lords

Here we are in Holy Week, each year we celebrate Palm Sunday, the commencement of Easter week. Palm Sunday is the day when Jesus entered Jerusalem in triumph.

In Matthew's gospel chapter 27 and verse 29 we see the Lord Jesus Christ in 3 ways.

First we see Him as the Substitute, He has already endured the arrest and mock trial. Now we see Him standing crowned with thorns, taunted by the Roman soldiers. He is about to lay down His life to ransom man from sin, He stands as the substitute. Man has always needed a substitute, even in the Garden of Eden, Adam needed a substitute - remember when God asked him what he had done - he said, "It was the woman that though gavest me." Man has been trying for a long time to find a substitute. In the old testament book of Leviticus, the law and sacrificial system provided a substitute to cover man's sin. But the Lord Jesus Christ made a sacrifice once for all time (Hebrews 10:12).

Elk Point Baptist Church

By Pastor

The crown of thorns is fitting for man's head - but not for Christ's. When man sinned, Genesis chapter 3 tells us that God cursed the ground - that it would bring forth "thorns and thistles" so then we see Christ, Himself God standing in man's place, wearing man's crown - of thorns. Is Jesus your substitute - is He the one who has paid for your sin? If He is not your substitute then you must pay the price yourself!

Second we see Him as the Savior. In Galatians chapter 6 and verse 7 the Word of God says "whatsoever a man sows, that shall he also reap." But the Savior sowed good seed, Pilate could find no fault in Him, the thief crucified with Him said - He had done nothing wrong, the Centurion in charge of the crucifixion said He was truly a righteous man. He, the perfect Son of God, the Savior paying the price that God's justice demands for sin. We could not save ourselves - only He could pay that price.

Lastly we see Him as the Sovereign - the soulders mocked Him saying, "Hail King of the Jews." Pilate wrote an inscription and put it on His cross "This is Jesus the King of the Jews." The people asked Pilate to change the writing - he refused. The truth is unchangeable - Jesus Christ cannot be less than a King. He laid aside the crown of heaven to put on the crown of thorns. Pilate wrote that statement in three languages - one day it will be written in every language around this world, Jesus - King of Kings and Lord of Lords.

This Easter season - is Jesus your substitute, your Saviour, your Sovereign? Without Him man is lost, without Him man is condemned already. May God grant each one of you the Grace to search your hearts and see - is your trust for eternity in His finished work on the cross? Everything else will fall short, our works, and good deeds do not earn us points with the Almighty. Remember, the Word of God says, "He that hath the Son, hath life, he who does not have the Son has not life." Do you?

Farewell party for Marilyn

by IRENE MAGNUSSON

A Farewell party was held in the Elk Point Hospital dining area March 21st, for departing Marilyn Dyckstra, physiotherapist, who is moving to Calgary with her husband to take up residence there. Friends, co-workers, patients and residents gathered to wish the popular young lady all the future's best.

Gifts were presented by resident John Rosychuk and others. Marilyn has been featured as Resident of the Month, and didn't even guess herself that she was "it" until the last clue was posted.

Staff member Diane Anderson wrote and acted in a hilarious skit, along with other staff members, depicting the departing Marilyn returning some years hence, with an (almost) dozen kids. The antics of these 'trying' little make-believe offspring would put almost anyone off planning a large family.

But it was all in fun and fancy, and laughter is great for any occasion, even the sad one of saying farewell to a very popular lady.

Mr. Knute Odegarden, resident, received the box of chocolates for identifying the physiotherapist from the many 'clues' listed, and the party concluded with coffee and a lovely cake, along with many good wishes, for Marilyn and her future child.

Delegations meet with Town Council

Monday was visitor's night at Elk Point Town Council, with two other delegations joining Bob Scott of the Northeastern Alberta Health Unit in the lineup to meet with Council and voice various concerns.

A five member delegation from the Elk Point Golf Club was in attendance, to discuss leasing arrangements for the golf course and to turn down the Town's offer of the former Dorothy Pelechosky home for a club house.

Disposal of the said house has been on Council's agenda for a lengthy period, ever since the decision to locate the new senior citizens' lodge on that site. At the March 11 meeting, Council decided to retain ownership of the structure, but to allow the golf club the use of it for a club house if they would pay for moving and renovating.

The golfers' delegation visited the house Monday afternoon and feel that it is too small to be of much use to them, and would better serve the recreation area as a change house and concession booth.

Regarding the lease for the golf course itself, the Golf Club committed a $3,000 per year rental fee to the Town, when negotiations for purchase of the site were underway. It only remains to make up a lease agreement. The Golf Club will take part in next week's meetings regarding development planning of the recreation land before this can be done, as a better idea of what area will be covered by the course will then be available.

Council later voted to notify the Golf Club that they are prepared to negotiate a lease, and to table disposal of the Pelechosky home until official notification in writing from the club indicates the Golf Club does not want to use the structure.

Also visiting Council was Mae Hendrickson, who reported a drainage problem at the corner of 50th Street and 52nd Avenue, and suggested construction of a swale across the avenue as a means of control.

The present culvert at that point is too small, Mrs. Hendrickson said, and is allowing overflow water to wash along the side of the house and enter her basement. The matter was referred to the Public Works department for study and direction.

Allen Warawa was appointed Municipal Auditor for 1985 on a contract basis. A recommendation by the Finance Committee that the services of Dun and Bradstreet be retained by Council was tabled until a later date.

The second of several alternatives proposed by Cicon Engineering for water supply upgrading was approved by Council with some adjustments to be made, following review by the Public Works and Finance Committees. The Public Works Committee will determine alignment and timing of the project.

Cicon Engineering Ltd. will be authorized to provide working drawings for the project, with the preliminary drawings to be brought to Council for approval.

Alberta Municipal Affairs will be requested to assist in evaluating creative financing of the project, as authorized by a resolution of Council.

Renovations to the Town Office were tabled as a delay has been encountered in construction of the new library. Organic silt encountered on the site will be excavated and removed, with suitable compacted fill used to replace this material. The Administration and Library Board were delegated to negotiate terms of having this work done.

Council moved to support the proposed relocation, by the Chamber of Commerce, of the Tourist Booth. The Town is also prepared to offer a serviced lot of Town land at one of several locations if the Chamber should prefer this to the land offered by Roland Gascon. It was noted that a permanent sewer dump station could be established in conjunction with the booth, if it were located on one of the Town lots.

Bylaw 407/85, which allows the Town to collect a maintenance tax for repair and replacement of water lines, was given second and third readings at the March 23 meeting. Several amendments have been made to the bylaw since the first reading.

BUSINESS WAS BRISK — At the first Farmers Market of 1985, even though only three stall holders were in attendance.

Farmers market starts new season

Elk Point Farmers' Market kicked off the 1985 season Saturday, with three enthusiastic stallholders offering a variety of goods, from homemade pyrohy to handknitted slippers, from African violets to oven-fresh baking.

Market organizers, Edith Mitchell and Gail Kozicky, said that last Saturday was only a "trial run", adding that the Grand Opening for the year will be this coming Saturday, with free coffee and doughnuts for all in attendance.

The Farmers' Market will be held each Saturday, from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., in the lobby of the A.G. Ross Agricentre. All stallholders and shoppers are cordially invited to take part. To book tables, please call Edith at 724-3749 or Gail at 724-4097.

A century of peace

Yesterday marked the hundredth anniversary of a day which went down in the history of Canada as a day of infamy. April 2, 1885, was a day which saw Indian Agent Henry Quinn, farm instructor John Delaney, and seven others shot by the members of Chief Big Bear's band, at Frog Lake, North West Territories.

This was only one of the many battles fought in the Northwest Rebellion, as the native people made a valiant last attempt to free themselves from the tyranny imposed by the whites' government, which had taken away their land and herded these proud people onto reserves.

As a result of the Rebellion, which saw many tragedies touch the lives of both natives and whites, the inevitability of change was realized, and a century of peace between the once-warring factions has evolved.

Who was to blame for the rebellion? Was it the newcomers to the land, who wanted to put every square mile under their control and also to dictate the lives of those who inhabited that land? Or was it those who objected to being displaced from the land and lifestyle they had enjoyed for centuries?

It scarcely matters now, when only books chronicling the events of these last battles to be fought on Canadian soil, and cairns marking the site of these skirmishes remain to remind us of those troubled times.

What does matter, is the century of peaceful co-existence which has prevailed since those days. God willing, it shall ever remain thus.

Have a safe spring

With the arrival of spring, one tends to experience a surge of euphoria and freedom, of having broken the cumbersome bonds of winter and now being able to head forth in search of enjoyment. All too often, however, this manifestation of 'spring fever' leads us to throw caution to the winds and to indulge in unsafe driving habits.

The coming Easter break also marks the first long weekend of the year, and one which will doubtless be commemorated by the usual string of traffic fatalities. How sad that a festival celebrating the coming of new life should bring about death.

We can all help to see that this does not happen. Every driver who exhibits care and attention to safe driving habits will be one less who is likely to become part of the gruesome statistics.

Long weekends are traditionally a time of hurrying to one's destination, so one can get on with the fun, staying until the last possible minute, and then hurrying back, tired to the bones, just in time to get back to the old grind.

Let's take just enough extra time to drive safely, and ensure that we will GET back to the old grind.

by VICKI BROOKER

Dear Editor:

I am writing to protest an outrage against nature which appears every year about this time.

First of all, let me tell you a little about myself. I am a rabbit. Not one of your fuzzy, plush, beribboned bunnies, but a real, fur-upholstered, flesh and blood RABBIT, made as nature intended rabbits to be.

Every spring, when the stores fill up with these absurd plush and chocolate apparitions, my fellow rabbits and I experience growing indignation at this crime against nature. How would you like caricatures of your relatives made up in colors no rabbit would be caught dead being, and put in store windows to leer out at passers-by? Or, for that matter, cast in chocolate, to have their ears bitten off and their paws consumed with obvious relish? Silly thought, isn't it

Why, then do RABBITS deserve to be made fools of, to celebrate a holiday which has nothing to do with rabbits in the first place? True, the ancient pagan holiday, 'Eostre', celebrated the spring and rebirth of life, which included all animals, including rabbits. That is also where the egg as a symbol of new life came into the celebration. But those ancient pagans never even SUGGESTED that their feast should be celebrated with pink and purple fuzzy bunnies -- in those days, they loved the REAL THINGS.

As far as Easter in modern times is concerned, isn't it supposed to commemorate another kind of rebirth entirely, the resurrection of Jesus? I doubt that Jesus, who loved little animals as well as all living creatures, would care to see us being made fun of in this fashion, either.

We, dear Editor, are not without a sense of humor. We do not, in fact, object to Bugs Bunny, feeling that he has a great deal of intelligence and sense of adventure, and in spite of his imperfect speech habits, shows many of the fine characteristics of the thinking rabbit. They should, however, have called him "Bugs Rabbit," or to be a little more harmonious, "Robert Rabbit" or "Russell Rabbit" or something of that sort.

We also think kindly of some rabbits in fiction, notably Winnie the Pooh's friend Rabbit (who in spite of being a trifle vague at times, is a basically kindly sort of fellow) and the Velveteen Rabbit, who was loved so much that he became a real rabbit. He must have been quite close to real to start with, to achieve such a wonderful fate.

We rabbits delight in being real, and alive. We love to run and hop and tease coyotes and dogs, we love to nibble lettuce in gardens and dance in the moonlight in meadows.

We are a part of nature, and our nature makes us abhor these cheap imitations of ourselves.

Perhaps you humans do not care that some of your number dress and paint themselves in ways that make them, and perhaps you by association, look absurd, as in the case of the punk rockers. Rabbits do not go in for such goings-on, however, and have no urge to be led down the bunny trail.

We would ask for your support in a campaign against this tiresome practice. If you want to buy your youngster a rabbit for Easter, make it a REAL one, which is much cuddlier than any stuffed toy, and will return your love and entertain you with playful antics.

Happy Easter to you all,
Ronald Rabbit, President,

Good listening

An evening of music

by IRENE MAGNUSSON

An invitation to an evening of good old time music, offered by a husband and wife team of professionals - and for free! - was not to be overlooked. Beryl and Katie Swanson, of Ponoka, visiting Katie's father Bill Osinchuk, in Elk Point's Buckingham House, generously volunteered their talents for the pleasure of the residents and a number of guests.

In the evening of March 19th, some 35 persons, mostly seniors, gathered in the spacious sitting room of the house unit to hear familiar tunes and hymns played, and many sung - solo or in harmony - accompanied by the electronic guitars of the gifted pair. Many listeners were 'singing along' - if not out loud, certainly inside, the tunes of their youth bringing back many pleasant memories.

Some were unable to sit still to the beat and started dancing on the rug. Nor was it only the old-time tunes; the floor was not empty when the more modern Chicken Dance was offered. 'Beaks' were clicking and 'wings' flapping briskly to the distinctive rhythm.

Mr. Osinchuk, who celebrated his 90th Birthday recently, has suffered a fall, bringing daughter Katie over to check him out. Happily, he is doing fine and seems to be fully recovered.

Buckingham House residents had prepared well for this gala evening, with an ample and delectable lunch served to close out a most enjoyable evening. We 'outsiders' were pleased and grateful to have been included.

Beryl and Katie have gone and still go to many Seniors' Homes and Centres, volunteering their talents and sharing the joys of music with the inmates and guests. Both are now retired. They have performed professionally all their adult lives, and still find making music their greatest pleasure.

I'm sure they would find the welcome mat out for them any time.

'Fun for All'

Break dancing to mime for family audiences

F.G. Miller Junior High School Drama students and Drama Club members turned a quiet Friday evening into fun for the whole family, when they presented "Just for Fun" to a large March 29 audience.

Skits, mimes, air guitar numbers and break dancing entertained the appreciative group with a total of thirteen numbers.

Lisa Lukevich starred in the title role in the first skit of the evening, "Count Dracula". Monte Scott as the baker, Katherina Ludlage as the baker's wife and Corinne Behr as the Mayor added a new twist to an old tale, as narrated by Stacy Bjornstad.

The second skit showed Sandy Smith as a "Do it Yourself" fan, with Jason Smereka as his advice-giving neighbor. The box built by Smith would have been a good cage for Smereka -- if only he hadn't forgotten the bottom!

"The Elephant" being sought by an escaped lunatic (Sheldon Porcina) was never seen by the victim (Kelly Currey) or the policemen (Cathy Irvine and Larry Thompson), but it still presented a ponderous problem and left everyone, including second victim, Mr. McCue, wondering just WHO was sane, after all.

A fourth skit wound up the evening of entertainment, and was performed with the assistance of eight adults from the audience, seven of whom acted as trees, with the eighth, Dick Ludlage, taking the part of a hunter. The villain of the story, Big Bad Wolf (Christy Vinge) says he's been framed by Little Red Riding Hood (Shari Fell) and the Three Bad Pigs (Myles Dion, Christoph Ludlage and Richard Schuhmacher), and proceeds to outline the shady real estate deals pulled by the pigs and the alleged choking of Grandma by Little Red.

Four fine examples of the quiet but hilarious art of mime were enjoyed during the evening, with Monte Scott starring as "The Baseball Fan", Adam French as "The Businessman", Adam French and Brian Bepalko as a pair of most inept burglars in "The Selfish Robber" and Adam French and Lindsay Jenner in "The Robber".

Costumes and music put the three Air Guitar groups right up there in the young folks' popularity scale with the rock videos so popular these days. Sandy Smith on vocal, Dean Cameron on guitar, Jason Smereka on drums and Christoph Ludlage on Saxophone performed the Huey Lewis and The News hit, "I Want a New Drug".

"Material Girl", the Madonna hit, was performed by Megan McCuaig, vocal; Jayme Pelech, keyboards; Tracy Oryschuk, drums; and Dawn Boudreau and Marion Hillebrand, guitars, all in pink costumes.

A variety of eye-catching costumes was worn by the five girls performing "Girls Just Want to Have Fun" by Cindi Lauper, starring Joanne Wozniak on vocals, Angel Ference on keyboards, Joanne Wolanuk and Jackie Gulayec on guitars and Cynthia Oester on drums.

Hit of the evening, however, was the lone exhibition of break dancing, with Myles Dion, Christoph Ludlage and Richard Schuhmacher performing the agile and complex routines which brought thunderous applause.

Thanks, everyone, for an entertaining and enjoyable evening on an upbeat note.

Stylists open spacious salon

Single Styles Creative Hair Design was officially opened last Saturday morning, with a good crowd on hand to watch Elk Point Town Councillor, Alvina Schuhmacher, snip the scarlet ribbon that was held by Annette Ference, owner and manager of the new business, and stylist Terry Davis.

Visitors continued to flock in to the cheerful new shop in the Work Warehouse during the balance of the day, enjoying coffee and snacks, and entering their names for the prize draws. Barbara Lemacha of Elk Point was the winner of the Grand Prize draw for a perm, while Shari Fell of Elk Point won the haircut and set and Jean Ference of Elk Point won the make-up kit.

Ms. Ference and staff members Terry Davis and Olga Ference were pleased to show the visitors around the attractive premises, which are furnished with not only the newest style in equipment, but also comfortable chairs for those awaiting their appointments, and accented with a number of handsome wicker and flower arrangements.

Congratulations and best wishes to these lovely young ladies as they embark on their new business venture.

1967 saw Mr. George Pinder taking over the leadership with Don Pinder and Peter Ference and George Sannachan as assistants. The club consisted of 13 members, 7 girls and 6 boys.

When asked what made him decide to become a 4-H leader, Mr. Pinder replied, "Ray Hellquist convinced me to be a leader."

The 1967-68 executive consisted of President - MaryAnne Shankowski; Vice-President - Raymond Ference; Secretary - Treasurer - Florence Vogel; and Club Reporter - Gordon Miller. The club reporter that year reported weekly.

That year Carol Pinder won the Grand Championship with the trophy supplied by The Canadian Bank of Commerce; Ray Ference was the proud owner of the Reserve Champion.

Some of the events attended that year were the Edmonton Super Rodeo and bonspiels in Heinsburg, Derwent, St. Paul and Elk Point.

Achievement Day was held outdoors in the skating rink; now the parking lot beside the Elk's Hall.

To Mr. George Pinder from all of us - Thank you for continuing a very worthwhile organization. When you see your former 4-Her's you must be very proud.

LTA meets in Vermilion

by IRENE MAGNUSSON

The Lakeland Tourist Association met in the Lakeland College at Vermilion, March 23rd/85, with 24 members present, Lorne Assheton-Smith of St. Paul in the chair.

Members introduced themselves, and minutes of the February 16th General Meeting were dealt with. A mass of correspondence was brought forward, mostly regarding coming events, literature available, and the upcoming TIAALTA Annual meeting in Lethbridge on April 13th.

Ron Barwick of Elk Point plans to attend this meeting, along with three others from the Lakeland. A bus has been chartered, coming from the northern area of Alberta.

Zone 6 pins are now available. These are most attractive, with the fisherman-in-boat-on-water logo maintained, only this one is bright in red, blue and gold enamel. Selling for $3, these symbols of our pride in the Lakelands will be available from Ron Barwick in Elk Point very shortly, and could be obtained now from the St. Paul office of the LTA.

Other reports were received and discussed; financial; promotions coordinator's report (Eva Carson); manager's report (Marjorie Robinson); and the Lakeland Country Guide report, also from Eva Carson. This Guide, now in the printing, lists activities in the Lakeland, and is substantially funded by advertising. It is expected to be available around the end of April.

Membership in the LTA has been rising steadily, Carson said, and weekly articles on the attractions of our area are mailed to 11 newspapers. Carson will be taking an LTA display to the Alberta Dental Convention in Jasper in May, continuing the promotion of the Lakelands in this manner.

Marjorie Robinson was not present, as she was currently showing the display at a Trade Fair in Calgary.

Large quantities of promotional materials are sent out, much of it requested by clubs, etc. A motion to ask these organizations to pay mailing costs on these bundles was carried. Another motion, to replace a large sign in Lloydminster (for tourists) was also carried.

Other matters touched on included the coming tours in the area to commemorate the Riel Centennial; the Map which exists in the underground malls below the Legislative Buildings which do not seem to include the Lakelands; The upgrading of the Park at Vegreville; wages; a proposed tour of the Athabasca River by boat; the possibility of getting a toll-free number for LTA; Detour signs; a speaker for the Annual Meeting, and the schedule of meetings for the next few months.

These meetings will be held in Vegreville, April 20th; Ashmont, May 11th; and Lac La Biche, June 22nd.

Chairman Assheton-Smith had a proposal for tours in the Lakeland, which could be instigated by the association, then turned over to private firms. Ideas and encouragement are needed, he stated.

Gord Earl, from Lakeland College, spoke on the great increase in College activities; from 70 summer students in 1970 to 700 in 1984. Much new building has taken place. He put forward that tourism could be encouraged by the college, since there are many summer programs for young and old alike, whole families could be involved, with plenty of time left to tour the lakes and parks.

At the close of the meeting, LTA members were able to see, at least in part, what he meant, as they were shown through a number of new buildings, full of the latest in teaching equipment, where students will learn welding, machining, carpentry, computers, and many, many other skills. An excellent lunch was served in the College cafeteria.

Ron Barwick, Historian for the Lakeland Tourist Association, needs good pictures of the Lakeland, and pertinent information for his files.

The Lakeland Tourist Association takes in a large area, north to the border, east to the border, Edmonton to the west and south of Lloydminster. What a truly wonderful chunk of country to represent and promote! We should all be members, proud of our part of the map, and willing to show it off to others.

Ferguson Flats, Lindbergh and Primrose news

By Mildred Dunham

Along with the beautiful spring weather most farmers are fairly busy with their cattle this time of year. Baby calves are popping up everywhere. The veterinarians are working double time as the hard winter has caused some problems.

Elsie Grekul (Hillebrand), her daughter Cindy and friends were out from Edmonton this week visiting the Hillebrand families. It was an educational visit for the friends as they had never seen a calf being born.

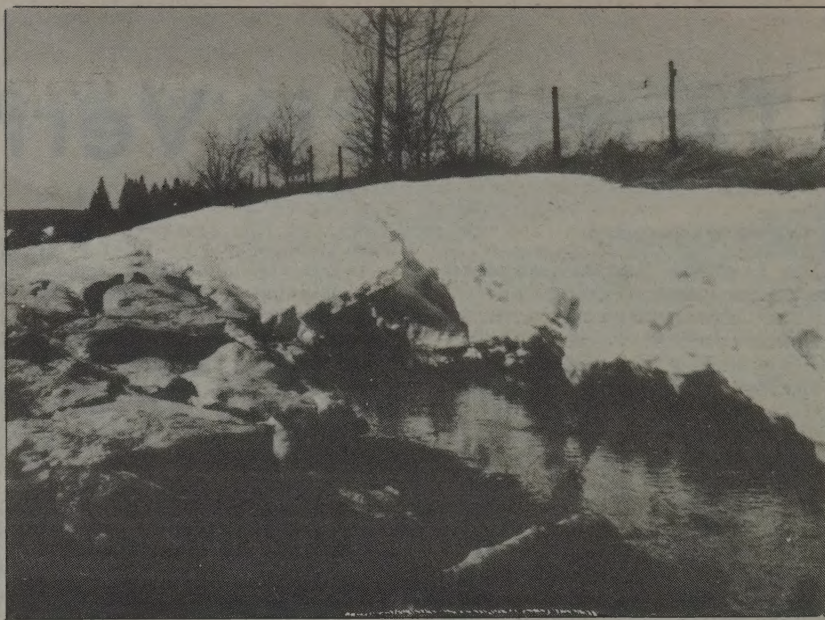

Elsie Tilley had a chocolate making demonstration at the home of Pat Gourtzen in Lindbergh on Sunday. Anyone interested in making their own chocolates for Easter can contact Elsie at her home for supplies. Besides being fun, chocolate making at home is much more economical.

Fred and Donna Zapasocki from Gibbons were visiting at the home of their parents, Nick and Pearl Zapasocki this week. Russel and Susan Zapasocki, also from Gibbons were out the week before.

Bill Zapasocki is presently spending some time in Elk Point Hospital. His friends and relatives are wishing him a speedy recovery from his illness.

The final whist drive for the season was held at Ferguson Flats March 30th. There were six tables which isn't a bad turnout for the busy calving season. The winners for the top scores of the season were Elsie Hillebrand for the ladies and her son Jesse got the prize for the men. They both received trophies for their efforts.

Elsie Tilley and Tammy Tilley went to Edmonton Friday and witnessed the plane crash. They said it was quite a nerve-racking experience. They were on their way home when they noticed a cloud of smoke and then a ball of fire. The highway was immediately filled with people and vehicles so that the firemen and ambulances had a difficult time getting there. People should remember that when there is an accident they should stay out of the way as it could mean someone's life.

THIS IS WHAT WE HAVE WAITED SO LONG FOR — The sun-rotted drifts, the gurgling water — SPRING breakup!

Dewberry and district news

by CLIFF CUNNINGHAM

The Greenlawn Goodwill Club met at the home of Effie Mathison on March 21st. Fifteen members and one visitor, Mrs. Ryan, was present. The door prize was won by Liz Zayac. The Birthday girls for March were Effie, Mickey and Adeline. Each member brought an article which was priced and an exchange was made. The proceeds to go to the Ronald MacDonald House. The April meeting will be held at the Greenlawn Hall with a houseplant exchange. Gertrude and Leona will be the hostesses.

May Braithwaite of Dewberry fell and broke her leg and is in the University Hospital in Edmonton. May is over 80 years young and lives in the Manor. She slipped on an ice patch. We all wish you a speedy recovery May.

Bill Brock is in Vermilion Health Care complex. He took sick while on his way home from Edmonton. We all hope you are feeling better Bill.

Peggy Garnier is back after spending the winter in her home in Las Vegas, U.S.A. Peggy always flies back to Dewberry about the same time the crows are coming back to this part of Alberta.

Mrs. George Lumley is in the hospital in Edmonton having a joint put in her hip. She is in the same room as May Braithwaite.

Bill Maddex returned home March 24th after spending some time in Edmonton having an operation.

Jim McDowall is in the Vermilion Health Care Complex. John took him in on Thursday March 21st. We all hope to see you back in Dewberry soon Jim.

Sandy Ewen is still in the hospital in Edmonton and his wife Phillis is staying up in Edmonton to be with him.

The Lion's club had the Cold Lake band come to the Dewberry school to play some band music which we all enjoyed very much. There were twenty-eight of them that came to Dewberry. They have forty that play in the band.

We are having nice weather now and the snow is just about gone except a few snow banks. We missed the big snow storm they had in Saskatchewan last week.

The Dewberry Senior Citizens held their monthly potluck supper on March 20th with thirty-five turning out.

It looks like Curling and Hockey is finished in Dewberry until winter comes again. Marwayne held their PeeWee hockey tournament on March 23rd and four games were played in the Dewberry arena.

Heinsburg community happenings

On March 27, a number of students of the Heinsburg School and several staff members held a barbecue and gym night. The night was arranged by our physical education instructor, Mr. Kiss, who organized students for the spice drive and social evening. Mr. Kiss prepared and served the hamburgers which were excellent.

After the meal, there was open gym night where students participated in viewing movies, badminton. It was an enjoyable evening for all. The students were grateful for all the parents who purchased spices. All profits will go to the student's council for student activities at school.

A number of months ago, the Heinsburg Community school was organized and declared a community school. To become designated a community school requires that the steering committee of the community school must prepare a lengthy brief according to the guidelines of a Alberta Community School Programme format. This brief is called the charter.

This past week, the committee's work on the charter was completed and the charter has been forwarded to the County of St. Paul for submission to the Interdepartmental Community school Committee for approval. Once approved, then the Heinsburg School will be designated "The Heinsubrg Community school."

The Further Education courses of Hardanger is underway and the St. John's Ambulance program will conclude this week. This will conclude this week. This will conclude the programs for Heinsburg as everyone will soon be preparing and carrying out Spring's work.

New books in the Community School Library are: Sweet Valley, High Romance Series; The Kent Family Chronicles; Ancient Evenings, Norman Mailer; Hawaii and Chesapeake by James Mitchner.

The coffee habit

Coffee drinking, like smoking, is not an easy habit for some people to give up. But more and more people are concerned about the health effects of caffeine, so are switching to decaffeinated coffee. Now the concern is if the decaffeinating process is safe.

Most decaffeinated coffee manufacturers use chemical solvents to separate the caffeine. One of 2 basic methods are used: the direct contact method or the water extraction method. The solvent is applied directly to the bean in the direct contact method whereas heated water is used to extract the caffeine in the water extraction method and then a solvent is used to separate the caffeine from the resulting solution.

Most, if not all companies, use methylene chloride as the solvent to extract caffeine. Trichloroethylene (TCE) was widely used until the mid 1970's when the National Cancer Institute issued an alert that high doses of TCE induced liver cancer in mice. Companies voluntarily stopped using TCE after July 1975.

Methylene chloride belongs to the same chemical family of chlorinated hydrocarbons as TCE and it, too, is now undergoing ingestion and inhalation tests. Because a small amount of solvent is left on the decaffeinated beans during the extraction process, strict government regulations must be met as to the allowable limit of solvent residue.

The manufacture of decaffeinated coffee is an automated process that efficiently produces not only a decaffeinated coffee, but also a valuable by product - pure caffeine. This is sold to soft drink companies, pharmaceutical firms and other companies that add caffeine to their products.

Health risks of ingesting excessive quantities of caffeine have been documented. On the other hand, methylene chloride has no evidence, to date, to support the belief that it is harmful to humans. Individuals can weigh the risks and the benefits and come to a decision that is best for them. Reference information on the caffeine extraction process can be obtained at the Alberta Agriculture office.

Students learn CPR

Twenty-two Grade 9 students of Heinsburg High School are now equipped to save a life by cardiopulmonary resuscitation, commonly known as CPR, following a recent course instructed by Fred Lambricht of Elk Point and District Ambulance Service, Doug Fisher and

The students finished up their course on Friday, March 22, when each was required to 'resuscitate' the mannequins brought along by the instructors, giving 'the kiss of life' to inflate the lungs, and by applying compression to the heart area in a stipulated rhythm, to stimulate heart action and restore a pulse. The mannequins are equipped with monitors which indicate if the rescuer is doing his or her task in the proper manner.

Lambricht and Heinsburg Principal Laverne Wilson said they felt the course has been a success, and hope to repeat the sessions for each year's Grade 9 classes. A CPR course is also planned for the Heinsburg teaching staff, and will be held in April.

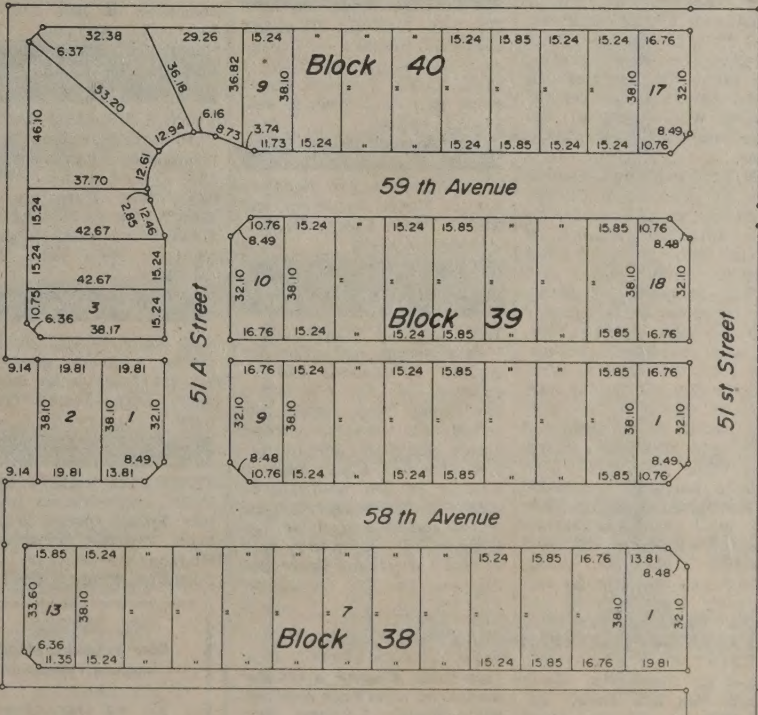

ONE, TWO, THREE, FOUR — Tommy Berland applies compression to the inert "Resusci-Anne" while instructor Elna Eidsvik keeps a watchful eye on the proceedings.

LANDONVILLE LORDS — Were reigning Monarchs of the no-hit hockey tournament in Elk Point, with their "A" side victory over Clandonald OV's.

CORLAN CRUSADERS — Captured the "B" side of the tournament, winding up a good season of hockey on a winning note.

Landonville Lords and Corlan Crusaders were declared champions of the "A" and "B" divisions of last weekend's Elk Point No-Hit Hockey

Tournament, with 16 teams in contention for a total of $1,000 in prize money.

Landonville scored a 5-0 shutout over Clan-donald OV's in the "A" side final, for the top $400 prize, with Clandonald receiving the $200 prize.

In the "B" side final, Elk Point's own Corlan

Crusaders down the Vermilion Alberta Transportation team by a 4-1 margin to win $300, with the $100 consolation prize going to Vermilion.

Pat Brodbin scored a hat trick for the Crusaders in an action packed game, with Dale Appleton scoring the remaining goal. Brodbin, Appleton and Terry Golinsky provided assists in the game. Only five penalties were assessed in the total 60 minutes of play, which made this one of the cleanest hockey games seen this year.

Also taking part in the tournament were: Mannville Roadrunners, Kehewin Red Wings, Letourneau Farm Supplies (St. Paul), Kehewin Old Voyageurs, Heinsburg, Elk Point Hoteliers, Jet Perforators, Frog Lake, Norglass (Bonnyville), Roof Riders, Keyano Bruins, and Grand Centre Lagers.

From the Sergeant's desk

By SGT. JIM FELL

It is my pleasure to announce the 1985 R.C.M.P. REGIMENTAL SPRING BALL to be held at the Elk's Hall, Elk Point, Alberta on the 4th of May, 1985 and to extend my cordial invitation to all the people of Elk Point and District. Last year we received such tremendous support from the public we have decided to sponsor this Ball as a yearly event.

The agenda will be a Social Hour from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., dinner at 7:30 p.m. with a guest speaker and then dancing to, "THE OTHER GUISE" a four piece band from Edmonton, until 1:00 a.m. The Members of the Force will again wear their formal attire, the Scarlet Tunic and we would expect the Gentlemen to wear jacket and tie and the Ladies to wear either evening gown or cocktail dress. Tickets are available at $45.00 (all inclusive) per couple from any Member of the Detachment, at the Detachment office or from Mr. Bill Ballas at Fort George Agencies.

Last year's Ball was billed as a Gala Affair, this year we again hope to have a tremendous success but of course it depends on your support. I hope to see everyone in attendance.

Fastball clinic planned

The Lloydminster Liners Junior A Men's Fastball Club will be holding a tryout camp and skills clinic for players born in 1964 or later on Saturday, March 30th at 2:00 p.m. at the Lashburn, Sask. High School. Further sessions will be held on March 31st and April 6th at the same time and location. All players 15 years of age and over are encouraged to attend. For more information contact Bob Rempel (coach) at (403) 871-6601 (work) or 875-4666 (home).
